

Zillah is:

Capable, hard-working graphic artist with an excellent range of skills. Specialising in Photoshop, Illustrator, Dreamweaver, and Flash.

Adaptable, creative individual who has worked in the graphic design industry since graduation in 1999. Positive attitude to finding solutions to problems, able to meet deadlines without sacrificing quality. Enthusiastic and self-motivated, quick to learn and carry out tasks, great reputation, references available upon request.

Experienced:

Brightwave

2008-Present day: Started as a freelance contractor, then accepted full-time contract as graphic designer. Working on everything from pitches to art direction for e-learning user interfaces. Clients are mainly large blue-chip companies such as Sky, Proctor & Gamble and BT.

Freelance graphic artist

2005-2008: Jobs undertaken for companies such as: Epic, Acadamy Internet, Tim Neill Associates, Digitalbrain. See online portfolio www.zillahdee.com, for details of freelance work.

Epic

2002-2005: Contracting as graphic artist. Large amount of commercial experience working on e-learning projects for major clients such as Virgin, Inland Revenue and BP. Knowledge of everything from illustration to Art Direction and client facing. Also studio photographer and voice-over roles undertaken.

Victoria Real

2001: Graphic designer/ web developer, varied experience from working on small pitches to large corporate websites such as Norwich Union and The BBC. Designing for Digital TV. Creating specialised sites for PDAs, making Flash animations.

Lighthouse

2000: Graphic designer of Lighthouse material such as short film posters, also 3 months as receptionist for the Brighton Media Centre.

Educated:

BA (Hons.) Multimedia: 2.1- University of Wales, College Newport.

Diploma Media Studies: Distinction- London College of Printing and Distributive Trades.

A' Level Graphic Design- LA SWAP, London.

8 GCSE's- Parliament Hill school, London.

Interesting:

Screen printing, photography, collecting children's books, gardening, sewing, making websites, attempting yoga, doodling in sketch books.